THE SHIRT WAIST ISSUE

QUESTION RAISED AGAINST EASTERN HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

Case Appealed to Director Lane—Differences of Opinion Among Officials Develop Today.

The shirt waist question has been precipitated into the Washington public schools, and the board of education of the District of Columbia will doubtless be asked at its next meeting to decide whether or not it is proper for a high school boy to attend his class room without a coat. The matter was suddenly and unexpectedly brought to an issue yesterday in the Eastern High School, when Principal M. F. F. Swartzell declared against the shirt waist and sent nearly twenty-five boys to their homes with instructions not to return without their coats. The boys went home and have appealed their case to High School Director Francis L. Lane, and Lane, in turn, will undoubtedly pass only upon the question as one of immodesty, when the matter will be carried to the assistant superintendent, the superintendent and then to the board of education.

There seems to be a strain of immodesty in the shirt waist question, which is participated in as well by the school authorities as by the boys, with the exception, perhaps, of Mr. Swartzell. The matter came up some days ago in his school, so his boys' protest by one of the lady teachers giving permission to a boy to take off his coat. This came to Mr. Swartzell's knowledge, and he at once, after consulting a number of his teachers, decided not to allow that style of dress in the school, and so informed the boy. The matter at once spread among the pupils, and it was decided to make a test case. Accordingly a number of them agreed to come to school yesterday in shirt waists.

The Test Case. Flag day was celebrated in the high schools yesterday owing to the examinations which take place today, and when the principal learned of the presence of the shirt waist students he at once sent word to the teachers in the different rooms, in which they were to send them home. It seems this order was not obeyed, for as the different classes came to the assembly hall to hear the speakers from the G. A. R. many shirt-waisted young men were to be seen. Principal Swartzell hurried to the entrance of the hall, and taking the young men from the line, told them to go home and get their coats.

When appealed to last night by some of the boys, Dr. Lane advised them to return to school, and consoled them good-naturedly with the fact that they were practically at a close now. It is understood, however, that the boys are holding a council of war, and will appeal the matter so as to get a decision from the highest authority, which is the board of education.

Officials Do Not Agree. There seems to be a diversity of opinion regarding the propriety of the shirt waist among the school officials. In the office of Mr. A. T. Stuart, superintendent of schools, the young men of the clerical force are allowed to do their work in the shirt-waist dress. Mr. Stuart said to a Star reporter today that if the question came to him on appeal from Dr. Lane it would simply be one of immodesty, and he would doubtless sustain Mr. Swartzell's order. In the office of school director Francis L. Lane, Mr. Stuart is not at all shocked at the shirt-waist costume, and independently of the occurrence yesterday, looks on that question with the utmost liberality. He said he had not the slightest doubt that if the boys had presented a respectful petition to the proper authorities, their permission would have been granted them to leave their coats at home, provided they came to school looking neat, and not with one "button" on to mar the beauty of the shirt waist.

Mr. Swartzell said today that the matter was only of slight importance, and he did not care to discuss it. He said that nothing serious would come of his order yesterday. The boys are not dissatisfied, and he said that he was not dissatisfied. As today finishes the quarterly examinations, only those pupils who did not complete yesterday are in attendance at the high schools.

ANNUAL REUNION.

Business High School Alumni to Re-organize for Evening Year.

The third annual meeting and reunion of the Alumni Association of the Business High School will be held at the school building this evening. Officers for the coming year will be elected and reports received, including a statement from the chairman of the committee on school interests, giving the status of the new building movement. A proposition to amend the constitution providing for an associate membership will be acted on. Among the features of the program this evening will be the presentation of a paper by Mr. W. H. Conroy, and a musical selection by Mr. Wilbur S. Moreland.

The committee on school interests will report on the progress of the movement for the movement to secure a new building for the school, and will also report on the results of the recent election of the Business High School. The report will set forth that the committee considered it of first importance to secure the approval of the board of education of the District of Columbia, and the District authorities. Early in January a communication was addressed to the board of education, and the matter has been under consideration ever since.

The committee stated to the board of education that the present quarters of the school are universally conceded to be inadequate. The committee will report that it has been assured that in the estimates to be submitted this fall by the board of education to the District Commissioners will include the item for a new Business High School building. The committee will recommend that the matter be passed upon the attention of the business men of the city. Mr. Paul E. Sieman is chairman of the committee on school interests.

RIGHT TO INSPECT RECORDS.

Ruling by Justice Clabaugh in Suit for Damages.

Justice Clabaugh of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, in the case of Rosina Bakersmith against the District of Columbia, today ruled that a citizen injured, as a result of the negligence of the District, has a right to inspect the public records for the purpose of examining documents, orders and reports connected with the work whose faulty construction is alleged to have resulted in the accident. It is stated that the legal representative of the District of Columbia has asserted the right to bar access to the records wherever the purpose was to obtain documents which might be damaging to the District in the trial of a case. They conceded the right to discovery in cases of contracts, but denied it where the suit was for personal injuries. The plaintiff claims that she sustained injury by falling into a sewer or culvert built by the District across Brightwood avenue near Richardson street, and was walking home the pavement suddenly collapsed under her, she maintains, and she was precipitated into the sewer beneath. In her declaration she sets forth that the accident was due to the fact that an opening had been made in the top of the sewer for a manhole, and when this was abandoned the top of the sewer was covered with a board and a layer of earth put on over the board, which in course of time rotted and caused the pavement above it to give way.

In passing upon the motion, which was made by Attorney Chas. F. Merrill, counsel for Mrs. Bakersmith, Justice Clabaugh said he would rule that a person having an interest in the District records is entitled to an inspection of any documents, orders and reports forming a part of the case.

Attorney Clarence A. Brandenburg, of counsel for the District of Columbia, gave notice that when the order which Justice Clabaugh indicated he would grant was recorded, a special appeal to the Court of Appeals will be prayed for the purpose of securing a ruling on the question by the appropriate court.

Model Clothing and a Model Clothing Store.

Meeting the demand is a weak point most everywhere—A STRONG POINT HERE. "I'll find it at Saks" is a truism as patent as "Saks-bessness." To properly serve all the people we make it a point to have all that is proper—in the sizes for everybody. Store conduct is as much a factor of satisfaction as quality or price. You'll be impressed with the size of our stock—its variety—its values—its economical markings—the readiness and ease with which you can be fitted. Largest in fact—best by contrast—cheapest by intention.

Features That Are Specially Attractive.

$10, $12.50 and $15 Serge Suits.
When in doubt trust the popular voice—and it has pronounced our $10, $12.50 and $15 grades of Blue and Black Serge leaders more emphatically than ever before. The $10 Serge is an exclusive weave—the Russian Navy Blue Serge is, you know—and the $15 Serge is of a weight that is made expressly for us across the water. They are all "Fit Reform" Suits—which means a tailoring treatment only custom-made can boast. We ask these comparisons:
Our $10.00 Serges with others' at $12.50.
Our $12.50 Serges with others' at $18.00.
Our $15.00 Serges with others' at $20.00.

$4 Worsted Trousers, $2.95.
Every man's wardrobe should hold an extra pair of Trousers, or two, and they should be bought when occasions like this offer special opportunity. These are fashionable and dressy stripes and checks, in light and medium shades—cut in the most popular fashionable style—and perfect fitting. It's a lot of 500 pairs.

$6.50, $8.50 and $10 Fancy Flannels.
In spite of the great demand there is no lack of stock in either of these three grades. Fully half of the fifty styles constituting our unlined variety is at these three prices. No wonder they are so popular. They were well selected. They are exclusive. They are thoroughly made, correctly cut, perfect fitting. And what you cannot foresee, but that service will demonstrate—they will hold their shape. And after all that is the secret of "leatherweight" satisfaction. The prices seem little for such goodness—but the strength of this store's exceptional facilities is behind them.

There was a game of base ball, running races for girls and boys, as well as sack races, wheelbarrow races and an elephant race. Dancing began in the pavilion at 6 o'clock, and continued during the evening. Interpersed with an excellent stage program, which included as a most attractive feature, the work of Miss Ina Fagan in her song, "Every Darling Had a Ragin' On." Miss Fagan, who has been an entertainer since she was four years old, captured her auditors most effectively in both song, dances and poses, and was encored many times. The sailor's hornpipe was danced by Allen Fagan, Ralph Howell and Lee Cary. Madeline Burns executed the solo dance, "Fascination," and Bertha Lingie danced "Superba," also a solo dance. "The Duchess of Central Park" was sung by Elsie Sheets. Norma Worthington executed a "toe ballet," and Ralph Howell and Lee Cary concluded the program with a jockey hornpipe.
